

METHODS AND SYSTEMS FOR COMPUTER
AIDED TARGETING

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method for acquiring an image on an imaging system includes accessing at least first image data from a first imaging system, processing the first image data in accordance with a CAD algorithm, acquiring at least second image data based upon results of the CAD algorithm and processing the second image data in accordance with the CAD algorithm to confirm the results of the CAD algorithm regarding the first image data.